SAFETY

Kids won’t be protected by an adult seatbelt in a crash. The law states that children under 12 years of age must have a special seat if they’re under 135cm in height and travelling in a car. It’s crucial that you pick the right seat — they’re out there, but the choice is overwhelming. So, take a look at the different types of car seat.

TYPES OF CHILD CAR SEAT

- Baby car seats
  - These are rear-facing seats for babies.
- Child car seats
  - Designed for kids who have outgrown the baby car seats, but aren’t big enough for a booster seat.
- Booster seats
  - Does your kid just need a ‘boost’ so that they can safely use an adult seatbelt? Then these are the right option for you.

Some car seats fall into more than one category. That’s because they can be adapted as your child grows. They may cost a little more initially, but long-term, they’re great value.
